Capt. Taylor's Picnic.

From The Yazoo Sentinel, Yazoo, Miss. of Sept. 8th, we clip the following write up of a picnic given near Sartatia, Miss. Capt. Taylor is well remembered here at his old home:

"Capt. H. L. Taylor gave a picnic and barbecue to his hands, on Holly Bend Plantation on the river, two and a half miles above this place. A few of his white friends were invited to be present and knowing that there was a feast in store for them, they availed themselves of the privilege and enjoyed one of the most bounteous spreads imaginable. Besides barbecued beef, mutton and pig, there were stuffed eggs, pies, custards and cakes for every one, also two zinc tubs full of the finest kind of white perch caught that morning out of Lake George just back of Holly Bend. Taking a birds-eye view of the table arranged for the negroes while they were eating it looked like it was a thousand feet long, with the entire length covered with edible as described above.

Mrs. Dr. J. B. Taylor and Mrs. Dr. J. P. Moore, Jr. presided over the table set apart for the white folks. After dinner was over my brethren were spiked, when I listened to some of the tales. One man from Phoenix had a cat with six legs; one from up the river saw a deer with three distinct horns, with forty prongs; another saw a bear with one foot growing out of his head, and as far as snake stories and fish lies are concerned they were so thick you could have stirred them with a stick. Capt. Taylor assisted by his manager, Mr. A. M. Harris, deserves the thanks of all present for their many courtesies.

There seems to be considerable horsethieving going on over the country from the number of horses and mules that disappear or are taken by some one. Last week a stranger got a horse from D. Wurtsbaugh & Son stable one afternoon to ride out in the country for a few hours and nothing has been heard of the party or horse since.

Shoes! Shoes!

Getting your money's worth—that's the hard trick every time when it comes to buying shoes. Let us make it easy by offering you such brands as the Walk-Over and Sir Knight for men; Krippendorf, Dittman and Clover Brand for ladies, and the Godman and Hamilton-Brown for children. Be guided by the fact that "a dollar saved is a dollar made," and see our lines before you buy again.

Old Jefferson said by a majority of 113, on the 6th inst., that she would not be killed by prohibition. She prefers to continue to grow and flourish like a green bay tree, so she holds to the saloon, the chief town builder of the universe. Laying all jokes aside, isn't Jefferson a grand monument to the saloon as a business maker and town builder?—Greenville Banner.
